Karzai's Brother Deserves Death: Bomber

Written by Mohammad Masumi
Saturday, 27 June 2009 10:55

A Pakistani suicide attacker, who failed to target President Karzai's brother, said Ahmad Wali Karzai deserves to be killed

Afghan intelligence agency in Kandahar arrested Habibullah, the bomber, who was hanging around close to Mr Wali Karzai's office that was partly destroyed after seven suicide bomber attacked the building last month.

A 19-year old Pakistani national, wearing black suicide vest was captured alive Friday morning near Ahmad Wali Karzai-led provincial council in the southern Kandahar city, the spiritual birthplace of the Taliban militants.

Quqnoos' correspondent Mohammad Masumi saw the suicide attacker; described him a squint teenage, dressed in dark gray clothing. According to the suicide attacker, he was trained by Pakistani Taliban in Quetta, a north-western city of Pakistan.

"I was told by a Pakistani Talib to and kill Kandahar provincial council chief and head of the provincial reconciliation committee and their assassination is allowed, the bomber told Quqnoos's reporter.

Canadian Special Forces – a part of around 2,200 Canadian troops stationed in Kandahar – defused the suicide vest and reportedly have taken the suicide attacker along for interrogation.

Taliban militants have not made any immediate comments on the arrest of the suicide bomber, who is reportedly trained and assigned by the Taliban.

Kandahar and Quetta are in the two sides of Afghan-Pak border where thousands of people illegally cross it every single day.

Ahmad Wali Karzai has been frequently attacked over the past few years since he has been elected as the head of provincial council in Kandahar. He escaped unhurt in all the attempts so far.
